LUGANA DOC SHINES AT TOKYO'S RESTAURANT 'IL RISTORANTE -LUCA FANTIN'

From left: Luca Fantin and Isao Miyajima

Lugana's return to the international scene starts from Tokyo, at Bulgari Ginza Tower, where 'll Ristorante - Luca Fantin' is located. The event. reserved for a selected audience of journalists, was co-organized with Isao Miyajima, the greatest Italian wines' expert in Japan. Luca Fantin, best Italian chef in the world in 2014, has created a special menu able to magnify the characteristics of this exquisite Italian wine. "Lugana is never intrusive but always enhances the foods it is paired with", explains Isao Miyajima. "A 'discreet' character which is highly appreciated by the Japanese". Lugana's exports to Japan have experienced a steady growth rate in recent years, between +5 and +10% per year, keeping Japan firmly in fifth place among export markets, as explained by the director of the Consortium. Andrea Bottarel. "We see a great growth potential, once the Covid-19 emergency is over. When the effects of the EU-Japan free trade agreement, in force since the beginning of 2019, will be more evident."

OPAS: GREEN LIGHT, FROM THE EU COMMISSION, TO THE CHINESE PROMOTIONAL PROJECT

The European Commission has approved the Opas' internationalization triennial project for the promotion of pork-bases products in the Asian country, guaranteeing a financing of 3.6 million Euros. Opas (Pig breeders product organization) is the biggest product organization in Italy, responsible for 12% of the Italian pig farming. The project, named 'Eat and Think Pink China', is designed to address all major Chinese cities through the participation in more than eight fairs. "With Brussels' go-ahead to this new project," said Lorenzo Fontanesi, president of Opas, "we want to give a new impulse to the international trade. [...] We owe this strategy to the over 80 associated farmers who guarantee a product which is absolutely in line with the most current food requirements but which also presents strict characteristics with regard to animal welfare, product traceability and environmental sustainability."

INTERCOS: THE FERRARI FAMILY HOLDINGS PARTNERS GIC (SINGAPORE) TO BOOST GROWTH

Dario Ferrari (picture) and the Dafe Family holdings have signed an agreement with an affiliate of GIC for the sale of minority stakes in the sub-holdings that control Intercos, Italian cosmetic contract manufacturer. Dario Ferrari, president and executive chairman of Intercos, said: "I am very pleased with the partnership with GIC, not only for the size and relevance of the Group, but also for its credibility and strength in Asia, which is the region with the highest development potential for our sector and for Intercos. The recent acquisition of 100% of Intercos Korea's capital confirms our willingness to grow in the Asian market, to which we are sure that GIC will give an important contribution." Arjun Khullar, head of GIC's Integrated Strategies Group, said: "GIC is pleased to invest in Intercos, the leader in the outsourced colour cosmetics and skincare market. We are confident in the long-term potential of the company given its broad and diversified portfolio of capabilities, balanced customer base, as well as its strong focus on innovation."

RASPINI DELI MEATS AWARDED AT THE 'SUPERIOR TASTE AWARD 2021'

The jury of the International Taste Institute, made of a selected panel of chefs and sommeliers from all over the world, has awarded Raspini deli meats at the 2021 edition of the 'Superior Taste Award'. In detail, Salame Piemonte PGI received the Superior Taste Award with 3 stars; Grancordato Raspini cooked ham received the Superior Taste Award with 3 stars; Gran Paradiso cooked ham received the Superior Taste Award with 2 stars; the Raspini roast beef received the Superior Taste Award with 2 stars as well. Four products that, in their respective category, represent Raspini's top of the range, whose undisputed quality has been now recognized at the highest levels.

TUTTOFOOD POSTPONED TO OCTOBER 2021

Tuttofood, the international Milan-based food & beverage trade show which was supposed to take place in May 2021, has been postponed to October (22-26), parallel to Host, the international exhibition for the hospitality and out-of-home industry. "We are aware of the focus of our events and we want to transform the uncertainties at this time into opportunities", says Luca Palermo, CEO of Fiera Milano. "The fact that these two strongly connected events will be running at the same time, will allow for an enhancement of the entire food and hospitality sector, and Milan will once again be confirmed as an international exchange hub and facilitator of meetings and business opportunities between the supply industries".

Feudi di San Gregorio: amazing wines from the South

The Mediterranean latitudes, mountain viticulture and fresh rainy climate of 'Irpinia' give birth to wines with a strong and recognizable identity. Reflections of a land rich in culture and traditions.

Irpinia, the green, inland heart of the Campania region, is predominantly mountainous. Its unique soils, volcanic and sandy, are well-suited to growing vines of the highest quality.

Here, for 30 years now, the Feudi di San Gregorio winery has been enhancing the value of indigenous grape varieties Greco, Fiano and Aglianico turning them into unique, great wines. Today, Feudi works 300 hectares of vineyards on over 800 plots which differ in altitude, exposure and slope.

Award-winning and rated by the most important international wine guides, Feudi exports to more than 50 countries around the globe and is one of the most prestigious wineries in Southern Italy. StorieFeudi is the company's latest project born with the aim of telling its terroir, through the people, the towns, the breathtaking landscapes and the authentic wines from indigenous varietals.

Brought in Southern Italy by the Greeks, Greco is one of the most ancient Italian white varietals. In Tufo chalky soils - located close to the sulfurous mines - Greco acquires unique minerality and freshness. Greco wine shows great personality, elegance and longevity.

In the TRENDING NOW section we aim to present some of the most recent product launches in the Italian retail market - or that are set to debut soon; as well as products that have been warmly welcomed by customers because of their quality and innovative features.

In this issue of Made in Italy for Asia we focus on both food and non-food items. In detail, in the food sector we explore a relatively new trend that is catching on fast among Italian and European consumers, that of 'alternative snacks'. Directed to those willing to reduce the intake of sugar and calories, or simply looking for new and unusual tastes, these products are enjoying great popularity. Manufacturing companies have been creating original and eye-catching, often single-serve packs, filled with products made from natural and high-quality ingredients. Ready to satisfy the adults' need for 'indulgent but healthy' snacks.

In regard to non-food, instead, the personal care sector is showing great dynamism. The consumers' simple desire for 'something new' goes hand-in-hand with the search for products able to simplify the daily beauty routine – on top face and hair cleansing - especially for young and adult females. More in detail, the attention for 'solid' solutions, made with natural ingredients and following artisanal techniques, is growing fast.

EASTER TREATS

The most beloved Christian Festival - after Christmas, of course
- is right behind the corner. And Italians are getting ready to celebrate, as usual, with elaborate meals and feasts. Traditional Eastern cakes and chocolates are a must for both children and adults: if the 'little ones' can't do without their giant Easter chocolate egg with surprise, the 'grown-up' will indulge in premium chocolate eggs as well as traditional Italian Easter cakes:
the world-famous 'Colomba' (for its recognizable 'Dove' shape).
A masterpiece of high quality flour, farm-fresh eggs, sugar, butter, and natural yeast, with a crunchy topping of pearl sugar and almonds. Available also with delicious chocolate, cream or pistachio fillings.

Perfect gift ideas to celebrate, with family and friends, that Spring is back!
