LO STRANIERO 2020 NAMED THE 'RED WINE OF THE YEAR' BY THE TOP 100 BEST ITALIAN WINES GUIDE 2023

Lo Straniero 2020 – Pinot Noir by the Piacenza-based winery Il Poggiarello won the prestigious 'Red Wine of the Year' award in the Top 100 Best Italian Wines 2023 Guide by WineMag.it. This Pinot Noir Emilia IGT is obtained from an organic-certified vineyard of less than one hectare, whose shoots were selected in Burgundy. The blend is completed with 5% Pinot Tintourier for a production of nearly 8,000 bottles a year. "We are very proud that the Top 100 Best Italian Wines Guide 2023 affirms that, when tasting Lo Straniero 2020, its fruity scent reminds of Volnay, the well-renowned French wine production area where the world's best Pinot Noir come from", the company run by the Ferrari and Perini families highlights.

PROSECCO DOC FLIES HIGH IN JAPAN

From 24 to 30 October 2022 the Prosecco Doc Consortium was protagonist at the 'Prosecco Wine Week Japan', organized in collaboration with the Italian Embassy, ITA Tokyo, ICCJ (Italian Chamber of Commerce in Japan) and Gambero Rosso. Masterclasses, talks, walk-round tastings, promotional activities in restaurants and malls as well as advertising campaigns in cities like Tokyo, Sapporo and Kyoto were organized in order to spread the knowledge of Prosecco across the country. A Market, Japan, where in the first semester of 2022 sales of Prosecco registered a 35.8% growth over 2021.

POLO DEL GUSTO (ILLY) TAKES OVER ACHILLEA (PONTI)

Polo del Gusto, sub-holding of Gruppo Illy that brings together brands of excellence from the world of f&b (coffee excluded), is widening its business network through a deal signed with the Ponti Holding for the acquisition of 100% of Azienda Montana Achillea, Piedmont-based company specialized in the production of premium and organic fruit juices and jams. The Ponti family, for its part, will enter Polo del Gusto with a 2.5% share. The acquisition should be completed within three months, and will boost internationalization plans of the brand, which is already present in the US, Korea and Canada.

SIGNORVINO TO OPEN ITS FIRST INTERNATIONAL LOCATION

The Italian wine shop and restaurant chain created in 2012 by Sandro Veronesi, owner of the Calzedonia Group, has announced the opening, in 2023, of its first international store in France, namely in Boulevard Saint-Michel, where it will provide an offer of more than 2,000 wine labels. The company, that celebrated this year its 10th anniversary, closed 2021 with a 37 million euro turnover. Today it counts around 25 venues in Italy, but more will come in the months and years ahead, both in Italy and abroad.

NEW ACQUISITIONS FOR ITALPIZZA

After acquiring the Spanish manufacturer Pizza Artesana Malgrat, Italpizza, specialized producer of frozen pizza headquartered in Mantua (Lombardy), has taken over the business unit from the historic competitor Mantua Surgelati. Through this operation, Italpizza will count eight production plants and two warehouses, for a total production capacity of around 435 million pizzas per year and a turnover of around 350 million euro.

FOUR WINEHUNTER AWARDS FOR ACETIFICIO MENGAZZOLI

Acetificio Mengazzoli, ancient family-run vinegar producer from Mantua (Lombardy), was awarded with four prizes in the 'food' category by The WineHunter Award, which is annually assigned to high quality wine, culinary products, distillates and craft beer achieving a score of at least 90/100 points by the tasting commissions. A quality recognition that, according to Elda and Cesare Mengazzoli, "is a further confirmation that we have taken the right direction".

PEDON GROWS IN THE READY-TO-EAT SEGMENT

The Italian specialist of pulses and grains Pedon has acquired the 'Convenience food' branch of Rickmers Reismühle GmbH, German manufacturer of rice ingredients and rice products, already co-packer for Pedon's ready meals. The operation, Pedon's Ceo, Loris Pedon, explains, is "another significant step in the evolution of Pedon from a traditional pulse and grain company to a global player in plant-based solutions with high added value".

ITALIAN PAVILION ON ALIBABA.COM: THE II EDITION ON THE STARTING LINE

After the success achieved with the I edition, the agreement signed between the Italian Foreign Ministry, the ITA Agency and Alibaba.com has been renewed. It will allow 1,000 Italian companies that are not currently present on the e-commerce platform – which counts over 200 million registered users and 40 million active buyers – to promote their products through tailored marketing activities and promotional events. For 24 months, the companies will receive Alibaba's support to better exploit the business opportunities provided by the e-commerce platform and 1,800 Usd of advertising budget financed by the ITA Agency.

Organic Apple Balsamic Vinegar “Amea XX”

In the TRENDING NOW section we aim to present some of the most recent product launches in the Italian retail market - or that are set to debut soon - as well as products that have been warmly welcomed by customers because of their quality and innovative features.

In this issue of Italy for Asia the focus is set on some noticeable innovations presented on the past October in Paris, on the occasion of Sial 2022. Italian food and beverage companies are indeed a strong presence at the n.1 French f&b trade show, and for the occasion presented an array of new products: from sweets to ice-creams, from ready-to-eat dishes to pasta and bakery specialties. In such a gloomy and uncertain global scenario, the Italian food industry's motto seem to be: let's not stop innovating!

Marron glacé: the sweetest chestnut

It is one of the most beloved Autumn and Winter desserts. A delicious candied and iced fruit whose origin is quite uncertain, but with very specific rules for a perfect preparation.

Autumn calls for chestnuts, and for marron glacés above all. The fame of its sugary crust and soft inner texture have been celebrated across Centuries and boundaries, and yet marron glacé's paternity is still claimed by both France and Italy. But before entering this dispute, let's make a basic but important distinction: marrons and chestnuts are not the same thing. The chestnut, once called 'the bread fruit' because considered the fruit of the poorest, comes from the Chestnut tree, a wild tree that grows mostly on hills and mountains. The marron (or sweet chestnut) was instead born when humans, among pruning and grafting, managed to create a fruit that is larger than the chestnut and with a smooth and homogeneous surface. Differences don't end up here, of course, but it is in marrons that pastry chefs have glimpsed a great potential in confectionery.

Italy or France? This is the dilemma

The first marron glacé was made in the 16th Century, and yet there are many stories surrounding its creation. Some believe that candied marrons were first created in Cuneo, a province in the Southwest of Piedmont, Italy, where chestnuts abounded as well as sugar, in 1500s. The chef of Charles Emmanuel I, Duke of Savoy, tried to candy the boiled fruit in a solution of water and sugar. This would explain why in France marron glacés are also known as the 'Turin marrons'.

According to another stories, their first known recipe appeared in Lyon in the 16th century, while others say that marron glacés were created by François Pierre La Varenne, one of the most important chefs of the 17th century that, in 1667, published a book entitled 'Le parfait confiturier' where the chestnut candying technique was explained. This would explain why in Italy marron glacés are called using the French translation of 'marroni glassati'.

What is certain is that that first ever manufacturer was Clément Faugier, who has been producing marron glacés in the French department of Ardèche since 1882.

How to make a perfect marron glacé

First and foremost, the larger and better-quality marrons must be chosen. They have to be peeled and boiled for about 10 minutes. Afterwards, they have to be soaked in sugar syrup over a few days and each day the syrup must be re-heated to encourage the chestnuts to soak up more of the sweet goodness. Once dried, comes the final act: the icing, which should be done in a very careful and delicate way in order not to break the marron and obtain a homogeneous result. They are then put in the oven for a couple of minutes to crystallize the icing.

A DRIZZLE OF INNOVATION

The condiments category is highly attentive to market trends and needs, proving it's not scared of exploring new and unusual flavors and - why not - textures. Seeing is believing.
